The average daily circulation of the Barre Daily Times for the week ending Saturday was copies, the largest paid circulation of any daily paper in this section.

2,808

"Times," of Course

That's what all the newsboys say when asked which Barre paper sells the best. There is no doubt about it.

The arid wastes of Brattleboro are broken by only two oases to cheer the heart of the thirsty wayfarer.

The first day of October did not open very propitiously but we may yet look for those glorious autumn days.

The defeat of the Liberalists of Rochester, England, by the Tory named Tuff may be called pretty tough on the Liberalists.

James H. Tillman, ex-lieutenant governor of South Carolina, who according to his own statement, shot and killed Editor Gonzales, is now trying to prove that he is not a murderer.

There was much pathos in the electrocution of the three Van Wormer brothers in New York this forenoon, they being found guilty of murder, but justice in that state is inexorable.

Mayor Burke of Burlington does not appear to be blinded by the flashes of the automobiles as they speed by him, although some of his political enemies do accuse him of a blindness which will not see.

The court statistics showing the amount of intoxication in St. Johnsbury brings out some interesting comparisons. For seven months of this year—from March to September, inclusive—there were 22 convictions in St. Johnsbury court. During the same length of time, and the same months, of the year previous there were 41 convictions. Two years before that there were 19 convictions in the same time. Thus it will be seen that during the year just preceding that in which the license law went into effect there was nearly double the number of convictions for intoxication.

The anti-Negro policy of Governor Vandaman of Louisiana has started the Negroes in a big emigration from that state and it is said that fully 1,000 of them have packed their belongings prepared to start for Africa. Such a report is important if true, but even more strange is the report of a proposed colonization scheme in which Booker T. Washington and L. S. J. Hunt, a mining operator in Corea, are said to be interested. Those who are acquainted with Booker T. Washington's policy will wait to hear from him before they put any credence in the report.

Another new railroad seeks a charter which will be known as the Burlington & Southern R. R. The more charters the better, some will materialize. We still have hope in the Rutland and Montpelier R. R., but must admit it moves slowly.—Waterbury Record.

While we cannot help commending the Record for its tenacity in clinging to what appears to be a forlorn hope, the Rutland-Montpelier R. R., it appears to us that the contemporary's position regarding the indeliberate granting of railroad charters is wrong. The granting of a large number of charters in the hope that one railroad may materialize from the number is too much like the practice of the man who pays for a lot of useless stuff in hopes that there may be a single article of value in it. Here's hoping, however, that this most recent charter will go further than the paper on which it is placed.

MILITARY MANEUVERS

Blue Army Parades Brown Army Toward Nashville.

Camp Young, West Point, Ky., Oct. 1.—The third and final one of a series of maneuvers participated in by regular troops exclusively proved on the whole the most interesting of all from a tactical point of view.

The maneuver was based on the condition of the brown army on the retreat toward Nashville and the blue acting on the offensive. The action was easier to follow than that of Monday on account of the requirement for attack and defense of an outpost by an advance guard of slightly superior strength. The position was consequently fixed with a fair amount of precision, and the opposing forces covered less ground. The umpires have not announced the result of this action. Thus far the troops have been absolutely unhampered by spectators. The long "hike" through rough country have prevented the gathering of non-combatants almost entirely.

ABOUT THE STATE.

Items of Interest Gleaned From Our Exchanges.

Rev. J. K. Fuller, pastor of the Congregational church at Windsor, delivered his farewell sermon Sunday and in the future will devote his entire time to his work as chaplain of the state prison. Rev. Mr. Fuller found this work in connection with his church work more than he could endure and therefore decided to give up the latter.

A recruiting party is shortly to be organized at Fort Ethan Allen to tour Vermont, New Hampshire and Massachusetts. Although it is not yet quite known who will make up the party it is expected that it will consist of one commissioned officer, two privates and a medical attendant. The object of the party is to establish an office for a period of nine or ten days at a town, enlist men that make application and then move to another town.

Dr. George H. Gorham, secretary of the Vermont Medical Society, is preparing the programme for the annual meeting to be held at Bellows Falls October 15. About 150 members with their wives will be present at that time. The wives of the members of the Bellows Falls society are arranging for entertaining the women of the party. Among other functions will be included a trolley ride to Westminster, Walpole and Alstead. The Westminster club will also open its doors.

The following is the football schedule of the Edmunds High school, Burlington: Oct. 6, Spaulding high school, Barre, at Burlington; Oct. 10, Goddard Seminary at Barre; Oct. 17, Plattsburg high school at Burlington; Oct. 20, St. Albans high school at Burlington; Oct. 23, Montpelier Seminary at Burlington; Oct. 28, Spaulding high school at Barre; Nov. 7, Plattsburg high school at Plattsburg; Nov. 10, Montpelier Seminary at Montpelier; Nov. 14, St. Albans high school at St. Albans.

Harry Oakes of Vergennes who has been in the employ of the Green Mountain Pulp Co. for the past few weeks repairing its buildings at the Huntington Falls mills, met with a serious accident late Tuesday afternoon. While on a barn, in some way the hook ladder he was using did not hold and he fell some twenty-five feet, breaking both legs just above the ankles. He was promptly taken to the home of Mrs. Huntington, who lives near by, and medical aid was summoned. It will be several weeks before he will be able to get about.

THE TILLMAN TRIAL.

Doctors Who Attended Editor Gonzales Testify.

Lexington, S. C., Oct. 1.—At the beginning of the third day of the trial of James H. Tillman only a few spectators were present. Dr. B. W. Taylor, one of the Columbia physicians who assisted in the operation performed on N. G. Gonzales, resumed his testimony. Mr. Gonzales was under the influence of an anesthetic and on the operating table when the doctor first saw him at the hospital. He said he had no hope of the patient's recovery after he examined the wounds. The witness was questioned at some length relative to the stimulants administered to Mr. Gonzales, their purposes and effects.

Dr. F. P. McIntosh, the next witness, said he rode in the ambulance with Mr. Gonzales to the hospital after the shooting and that they were alone in the ambulance.

Asked if Gonzales said anything to him on the way to the hospital, the doctor said Gonzales looked about the ambulance to see if they were alone and asked him to state frankly if he was mortally wounded. Witness said he told him he was afraid he was and that Gonzales said, "Yes, I think the fellow got me."

The doctor then told of the course of treatment pursued and said he believed death to have resulted from the gunshot wound.

J. A. Hoyt of the editorial staff of the Columbia State saw Mr. Gonzales in the State office about fifteen minutes after the shooting. He was then suffering intensely, witness said, but rallied. He was with him continuously then until he was removed to the hospital.

"Did he say anything about his condition?" the solicitor asked.

"Yes," he said he was afraid he would die before his wife got there," witness replied.

Asked if Gonzales made any statement to him, Mr. Hoyt said he had told him all about the shooting. Objection was raised by the defense to the admission of the statement which Mr. Hoyt said Mr. Gonzales made to him regarding the shooting, and an argument which consumed several hours ensued.

Autumn Days.

The autumn days again have come, as is their style each year. When days of summer time round out their term and disappear. And in accordance with the change the seasons thus have made. We regulate our modes of life and in new togs parade.

The young man in the brief top coat struts proudly into view. And stylish wrap the maiden dons instead of peck-a-bo.

Wine sires again increase their forms in woolen underwear. And matrons turn to heavy gowns devised with greatest care.

We hid farewell to melon feasts, although 'tis with a sigh. And find a pleasing substitute in oyster stew or fry.

From drinks we're cutting out iced tea that used to reach the spot. And find more satisfaction in the coffee strong and hot.

We tell the ice man that no more his frigid goods we need. And chuckle when we think at last from what other tasks remind us that the winter's coming on.

That soon, alas, the autumn days, like summer's, will be gone.
 —Theodore H. Boice in Pittsburg Chronicle-Telegraph.

Saturday Bargains!

Never a time when it was not economy to buy here. Some days, though, savings are more pronounced than others. Saturday, for instance, with this extraordinary collection. Not a single item but what is decidedly under price.

Ten dozen Bureau Scarfs, Pillow Shams, Table Covers, Sideboard Covers, Center Pieces and Mats, in cut work, some in embroidery. Many of the pieces we offer you below the cost of raw material. All are exceedingly big values at 35c, 38c and 48c. Choose from the lot, Saturday, at 25c each. A tremendous saving.

Ten dozen Fancy Collars and Stocks. Not only the newest styles, but best; not only best, but lowest priced. We have not sufficient command of the English language to do justice to the beautiful collection here. You must see them. More than half of this collection are regular 50c goods. Some we have sold for 35c and 39c. To make this the 'biggest event of the early Fall season choose from the lot, Saturday, for 25c each.

Maybe you do not want them now. Very well. Many will take advantage of this sale, as they make excellent Christmas gifts, not far off.
